What's Happening Week 14?

This week we're off to the sunny Caribbean.

And we get into some great chocolate, and a messy Chocolate War.

It's also time also to make-up and submit your Final Exam Question(s), and to turn in your Term Paper.

Finally, please respond to the ITSS On-line Course Evaluation.

GENERAL COMMENTS FOR THE WEEK

Sunday Memo: “What’s Happening Week 14?”

This week we’re off to the sunny Caribbean, with the video, the text, and the news report. The Caribbean is a big area so choose your location for the video (there are three Episodes to choose from). You need to choose one, but you are welcome to watch all three if you wish (previews are available below).

Dessert this week is chocolate, a delightful treat that was a favorite of the ancient peoples of Meso- and Central America bordering the Caribbean (the south of Mexico, and modern-day Belize, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, and Colombia).

Archaeologists suggest that domesticated cacao, from which chocolate drinks and sweets are made, came from the upper Amazon region of northwest South America beginning about 5,300 years ago (Zarrillo et al. 2018).

More specifically, in Global Cultures we’re going to have a look at the European Union “Chocolate War” that lasted decades. It’s the most recent “Thirty-Years’ War” in Europe. The EU “Chocolate War” is a classic case study in business and marketing—with international regulations. And here, in Global Cultures, the slides also introduce “scaling” as a research technique in the social sciences. Pay close attention to “scaling,” it’s a useful technique for comparing things.

Check in on Tuesday’s Live Chat at 7:00 p.m. if you have last-minute questions on your Term Paper (which is due this week), or on the Final Exam. If that time is not convenient, e-mail. . . .

Speaking of the Final Exam, be sure to submit an interesting question by the end of this week. And, if you have not already done so, please fill out the Student Rating of Teaching questionnaire- (SRT) that our friendly IT folks sent to you via e-mail.

REM: Course Survey
(from IT, if you haven't yet completed it)

The friendly folks from the UM Office of Measurement Services will be sending you an Invitation and Reminder to Participate in an online Course Evaluation.

Evaluations are important to me, the Department Head, and the Dean, as well as everyone in our Department.

Please fill out the online Student Rating of Teaching (SRT) carefully.

Evaluations are anonymous and will not be seen by the instructor until final grades for this course have been recorded, and then only aggregate information from the entire class will be passed onto the faculty member.

Your input will help improve this course.

Thanks,

Tim Roufs

Keep in mind that your Term Paper is for a different audience than your Presentation.

Your Term Paper is a formal academic paper, intended for an audience like a student section of the Central States Anthropology Newsletter.

Your Presentation is an informal presentation for the audience of your peers in this class (and specifically not the prof in the class).

REM: Review Units of Analysis

slides: (.pptx)

as mentioned in the "Orientation"

units of analysis may include:

- one person
- the family
- the community
- a region
- a "culture area"
- a culture / "subculture"
- a nation
- the world
- an item or action itself
- a "cultural metaphor"
